

Letter of Motivation

Beautiful, attractive but also courageous, extraordinary design has always found my enthusiasm. Whether the carefully selected typography of a publication, breathtaking motion graphics in advertising and film or beautiful, sophisticated web design.

Furthermore I have started very early to get interested in what those impressive projects are about. First steps in web design and programming at the age of 9 as well as the mathematical, logical aspect raised my interest. In the following years I developed a passion for bringing more and more increasing web projects to life.

Owing to the interdisciplinary approach and the huge overlap with my interests, I am convinced that Interactive Media Design is made like no other course of studies to expand and open up new areas and continue my way.

Due to my continuing interest to learn something new and the required necessity of teamwork in projects, I felt induced to an application. In addition, I hope to contribute with my commitment to the life and work on media campus Dieburg.

Therefore, I would appreciate a positive decision on my application very much.

Tim J. Peters